Confort 1100 – Ideal for three couples

The Confort 1100 is an ideal inland waterway cruiser for three couples. It features three spacious cabins, each offering generous headroom of approximately 2 metres, and three private bathrooms, each equipped with an electric toilet, washbasin and shower.

Meticulously maintained throughout its life

Our inland waterway cruisers are rigorously maintained throughout the boating season. Every winter, they are taken out of the water for a thorough inspection and comprehensive maintenance of the deck and hull, together with the application of antifouling.

Our services

Thanks to our network of bases across France, several locations can offer you a range of services. Our teams have in-depth knowledge of our boats and extensive technical expertise, including:

- Mooring and berthing for your boat
- Winter storage and repair services
- Installation of additional equipment
- Assistance with obtaining your boating licence
- What is the annual maintenance cost?

Nicols inland waterway cruisers, built by the Nicol's Yacht boatyard with durable GRP (glass-reinforced polyester) hulls, are designed to keep maintenance costs very low. Their simple, practical and functional design, originally developed for the boat rental market, also helps minimise maintenance expenses.

As a private owner, you should plan to have the boat taken out of the water every 3 to 4 years. In between, routine maintenance is similar to that of a car, including regular oil changes and standard servicing.
